

PRODUCT PREVIEW

Finally.
A flatbed scanner that offers more for less.

More image quality.
More portability.
Less cost.

The Crowley Company is pleased to introduce their first manufactured overhead document scanner (ODS). The Crowley ODS sports a simple yet effective design that brings together the renowned engineering excellence found in the company's Mekele Technology and Wicks and Wilson production microfilm scanners and pairs it with decades of experience in the library, corporate and government sectors at an affordable price.

Designed for walk-up users (students, patrons, researchers, staff), the sturdy construction and 18 MP CMOS sensor with high intensity wide angle LED's ensures quick scan time and high image quality on scans from:

- flat documents
- bound books
- spiral notebooks
- lab books
- binders
- photographs
- graphic arts
- more

From box to scan in four easy steps:

1. Connect the scan tower
2. Connect the touchscreen module or independent PC
3. Plug into a power source
4. Scan to USB, email, cloud, printer and more
